Reciprocal Golf

As an LSGC member you can play free golf at more than 30 other courses in the south and beyond. If you take advantage of all these opportunities just once a year you will save well in excess of £500. Here are the details:

We have a reciprocal arrangement with Coombe Wood Golf Club, which allows any LSGC member to play free of charge up to five times a year during the week at their course in Kingston. Just ring their professional to let him know you are coming – and take proof of your membership when you go.

By dint of our special relationship with Royal North Devon Golf Club, LSGC members can play free of charge at their magnificent links course in Westward Ho! If you plan to play there, please ring the professional at the club in advance and book your tee time, taking proof of membership along with you.

At Royal Wimbledon Golf Club, any LSGC member is allowed to book a midweek fourball at the special rate of £35 per person - you need to do this through our pro, Steve Barr. This is a great deal as it's only normally possible to play as a visitor at the Royal via a letter of introduction, and even then green fees are £120.

You are entitled to play up to ten times a year during the week at Clandon Regis Golf Club near Guildford. Arrange in advance and bring evidence of your membership.

Mid-Kent Golf Club have agreed that any LSGC member can play free of charge up to three times a year during the week. Please book by telephone in advance.

In addition to all this, LSGC members can play free golf at 30 clubs through our membership of the SmartGolfer Network, which includes courses such as Mitcham, Stanmore, Finchley, Brighton & Hove, Great Yarmouth, and Oundle. For details see the network's website, but essentially LSGC members can play free of charge (even at weekends for full members) on a limited number of occasions, and can also get reduced green fees for any guests they bring along.

All of the above are excellent arrangements with friendly clubs that add significantly to the value of our membership. So please do everything you can to ensure that you represent the club properly and that you respect any local rules.
